Larry L. McCown

Biographical Sketch, Northwest RAC Member

Larry McCown arrived in Colorado in 1981, a construction worker making a living up and down the Colorado River corridor. Along the way, McCown provided Rifle with a bowling center, opening that business in the late 1980s.

McCown began his public service career in 1996 when he was elected to his first term as a Garfield County Commissioner. He is beginning his second year as a Northwest RAC member representing interests in Category 3 as an elected official.

McCown's personal interests include hunting and off-roading across the Western Slope. Resource extraction and public access are two issues central to his participation on the RAC.
